Gym club applies for new premises

A GYMNASTICS club has submitted a planning application to turn a business unit into a dedicated gymnastics space.

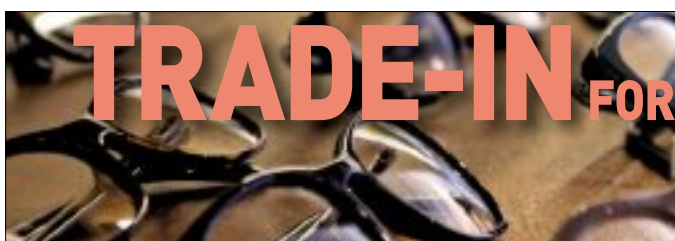

The Haverhill Gymnastics Club currently operates from Haverhill Leisure Centre, but has been looking for its own premises for several years.

The club is proposing to turn a business unit in the Holland Business Centre in Hollands Road into a space which can house gymnastics equipment such as vaults and floor mats, where there is adequate room for members to practise. Their planning application states that a business unit is one of the few affordable venues with the necessary floor space.

The club currently has 257 members and a waiting list of 250. They hope a new premises would enable them to expand and provide more opportunities to exercise to young people in Haverhill.

The plan has received support from residents in the area, and consultation is ongoing.

It will be considered by the St Edmundsbury Borough Council planning committee.

Storyteller fires up children's imagination during visit

TELLING TALES: Storyteller Marion Leeper with pupils at Westfield Primary Academy

Picture: Richard Patterson

PUPILS got creative after being told stories from around the world.

The children of Westfield Primary Academy in Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, were visited by professional storyteller Marion Leeper last Thursday, as a continuation of their World Book Day celebrations. Marion visited classes from each year group, and told them stories from places around the world, including South America and the Aztec world, China and Egypt.

The pupils then had a chance to respond to the stories in different ways: making story pockets, creating story endings or imagining characters.

Marion is working on a new book which links maths and stories.

Council convenes for last full meeting

HAVERHILL town council met on Tuesday night for their last full meeting before the election next Thursday.

The next time a full council meets, at the annual town meeting on May 18, a new set of councillors will have been elected.

Mayor of Haverhill Roger Andre proposed a vote of thanks to those who have served on this council at the meeting.

He said: "I would like to personally express my thanks to all the councillors who have served over the last four years, to all the other people who have made it possible, and particularly to the town clerk, who has taken over at a very difficult time.

"Thank you for your support, thank you for your service, and thank you on behalf of the people of Haverhill."

County councillors Tony Brown and Julian Flood, who were at the meeting to deliver reports, also expressed their thanks.

HANNAH MIRSKY

Cllr Brown said: "I would just like to personally thank the mayor and the councillors, and say a special thanks to the town clerk and his staff."

Cllr Flood, who is also the UKIP parliamentary candidate for West Suffolk, said "Thank you for your co-operation as we go into the election, and I hope we will continue to co-operate as well whoever is elected."

A fourth thank you came from member of the public and regular attendee at the meetings John Burns, who is standing for election to the town, borough and county councils next week.

He thanked the town and borough councillors, the town clerk Colin Poole and his staff, and the Mayor and Deputy Mayor Roger Andre and Maureen Byrne.

Councillors also used the meeting to discuss other concerns.

Cllr Betty McLatchy suggested that the council support any residents who want to organise a celebration for VE Day on Friday, May 8, and the following weekend.

Cllr McLatchy said she has a book detailing what is and is not permitted in terms of street parties. The council agreed that if any resident wanted to organise a celebration, they would provide advice and support.

The town clerk Colin Poole drew the councillors' attention to new support for the community ambassador scheme from Suffolk County Council Highways.

He said that the support would bring perks to the existing community ambassador scheme run by ONE Haverhill "in terms of actually getting the equipment."

The county council's planning committee will meet on Tuesday, and the election will take place next Thursday, May 7.

Missing 20-year-old found by police

A YOUNG man who went missing on Saturday has been found safe and well.

Jonathan Glenister, 20, from Haverhill, was reported missing at lunchtime on Monday, April 27, after he failed to return home.

He had texted saying that he would be staying with a friend in Cambridge on Saturday, April 25, but had not been heard from since, which was said to be out-of-character. He did not turn up to work on Monday.

He had been last seen by his friend in Cambridge, at around 7pm on Saturday, April 25.

A police appeal to find him gained attention on social media. A link to the appeal was shared over 800 times on Facebook, and reached nearly 75,000 people.

Mr Glenister made contact with family members on Tuesday, April 28, and was located safe and well in Cambridge by police that afternoon.

Police are thanking the media and the public for their help with this appeal.

Dressing up and debating make for a diverse St George's Day at school

TO some, St George's Day might be a time to celebrate English patriotism by drinking a pint and raising a flag – but for the students of Haverhill's Samuel Ward Academy, it's a little bit more diverse.

The school's Year Seven and Eight pupils celebrated the patron saint of England's day, which took place last Thursday, April 23, with debating, poetry and dressing up.

Pupils and staff at the school in the town's Chalkstone Way were asked to dress up in a way that represented their cultural identity.

The costumes included Robin Hood, James Bond and a British bulldog, as well as lords and ladies, saris, and Jamaican T-shirts.

Students also came in full Welsh costume, and dressed as Dr Who and Kate Middleton, the Duchess of Cambridge.

Those who dressed up donated money to support the school charities and improve the school environment.

As well as dressing up, the students debated what it means to be English. They thought about English values and how they relate to the idea of St

George, the dragon-slaying saint who wasn't English himself.

Students also got creative, holding competitions to take a photo that sums up Englishness, writing poems about being English and creating collages of English images.

They also held a competition to make the case for the adoption of an English bird.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Two stolen bicycles found burnt out in town field

TWO ladies' bicycles which were stolen from Haverhill's Chalkstone Way have been found burnt out in a field.

Both bicycles were stolen from the road between 1.37am and 7.29am on Friday, April 24.

One was a white and purple ladies' ProBike worth £109, which was locked in a bike rack when it was stolen.

The other was a pink and turquoise ladies' bicycle and valued at £75.

Both cycles were found burnt out in a field behind the International Flavours and Fragrances factory on the evening of Sunday, April 26.

First craft and gift market takes place in town centre

A CRAFT and gift market is taking place for the first time in Haverhill this Saturday.

Twenty new stalls will be added to the traditional market in Haverhill's Market Square and Peas Hill.

They will sell everything from ships in bottles, teddy bears and wooden toys, to baby massage and reflexology, Brazilian sauces, cupcakes and homemade burgers.

The stallholders have been given the chance to trade for free this Saturday to see if they want to become regular traders at the town's market.

The market will run from 9am to 3pm and has been organised by St Edmundsbury Borough Council, which hopes to make it a regular event.

South ward to get £200k grant for community

A HAVERHILL ward is set to receive £200,000 in funding to support the community.

The money is a grant secured by Community Action Suffolk from the People's Health Trust. It will go towards projects in the Haverhill South ward, where the Clements Estate is situated.

Residents there have formed a "People's Forum" to identify concerns, strengths and opportunities in the area.

Ideas that have already been suggested by local people and organisations are activities for children and young people, a BMX track and a local small grants programme for local organisations.

Residents began coming up with ideas in May last year.

The People's Health Trust requires local organisations to support local people and take control of designing, developing and delivering projects.

David Smith, chairman of the Haverhill South People's Forum, said: "The coming months will be very exciting. The forum will be looking at the ideas we have already received and we will be leading the 'Local Conversation' with residents to ensure that these ideas are truly representative of the needs of the community.

"We will then be open for applications so these, and other, great ideas can be put into action."

Only two other wards in Suffolk – Kirkley in Lowestoft and Gainsborough in Ipswich – will benefit from such a grant.

Andrew Wilesmith, senior development officer for localities at Community Action Suffolk said: "The residents of Haverhill South have worked hard to bring this idea to fruition. They have come forward with ideas they believe will help to make Haverhill South an even better place to grow, live, work and age. We are very excited to be at this stage and to see things start to happen on the ground."

John Hume, CEO of People's Health Trust said: "The Local Conversations programme is a unique opportunity to ensure that local people are genuinely in control of their local initiatives.

"All too often we see project ideas being 'passed down' to local people with little sense of whether this is what local people want. The programme is about long-term engagement between local residents so that they can be in control. It's what real grass-roots work should look like."

The programme will begin with the launch of the funding, and will last until at least December 2016.

For more information, contact Andrew Wilesmith at Community Action Suffolk on 01473 345400 or andrew.wilesmith@communityaction.suffolk.org.uk.

ELECTIONS

So what are the candidates

CONSERVATIVES

We have achieved much by working with others in the public, private and voluntary sectors and across party political lines both in Haverhill and throughout West Suffolk.

Conservatives have fielded very good candidates in every St Edmundsbury ward and, if elected, will work hard with others to serve ALL our residents, irrespective of party politics. Challenges ahead include continuing to deliver good council services and the lowest possible council taxes, supporting our communities, ensuring we preserve our heritage and landscape while securing the right kind of housing, jobs and business growth which we need together with the necessary transport, education, health and recreational infrastructure.

Specifically in Haverhill, we will continue to seek (among many other things):

- More town centre improvements: together with One Haverhill, supporting the delivery of the Town Centre Masterplan and encouraging further investment to create a more vibrant town centre.
- Better transport links: working with partners to improve bus services and road links, including the A1307 and the delivery of the North Western Bypass.

- The right kind of housing and infrastructure: working with developers, housing associations and others to deliver the good-quality housing we need – both affordable and private. Also to improve our existing housing stock through energy efficiency grants and other measures.

- Health and education Services: Working with partners to improve and expand Haverhill's education and health services including local diagnostic facilities.

- Economic development: Building on our achievements to provide further and better quality jobs and skills opportunities, and ensure both the quality of life and the future prosperity of our residents of all ages.

LABOUR

All our candidates have been campaigning on Haverhill issues and we all know how decisions made in Bury St Edmunds take little account of our needs. Cuts in spending – driven by Tory dogma – have extensively diminished the services our residents expect – and pay for.

We have seen borough services wound down in our community with a loss of local authority jobs to Bury St Edmunds.

We want to ensure that our borough councillors clearly represent the needs of our community; after a stream of 'absentee' councillors, following Tory commands, have failed to speak up for our community we are marooned with insufficient school places, decaying infrastructure and no support in services for our young people.

We want to stand up to indiscriminate cuts and sell-offs of our assets to plunge ever more into reserves merely to avoid ultimately inevitable increases in the precept at the command of the failed Tory government.

Ours is a growing community investing in future growth to guarantee a future for the adults of tomorrow. Short-term capital gains from selling off our assets and running down services should be properly balanced against providing facilities for our community – now and into the future. Our need for affordable housing is forcing socially responsible housing providers to undermine our cohesive community by dense development of the only open spaces left on our estates.

We want to press for infrastructure improvements, including improved energy capacity and connectivity for our businesses, improvements to our roads and transport services and to retake control of our street lights.

INDEPENDENT

Robert Clifton-Brown is standing as an independent candidate in Withersfield. He has previously served on St Edmundsbury Borough Council as a Conservative councillor.

When asked about his plans for the borough, he said: "What I am stressing is that I live in the ward and I shall be able to devote my full attention to the wellbeing of people in this ward."

"I stand for affordable housing, and of course the wellbeing of everybody and I am always available and always here."

"I have been a sitting member of the council for 20 years at least. I have spoken out against various things, which has made me unpopular."

promising?

THE elections are just a week away. Haverhill residents will soon be voting for their new MP, town council, borough council representatives and one county councillor. To help you decide who's best suited to run your borough, we've put together a list of what each of the main parties, and the one independent candidate, are promising for St Edmundsbury.

On Thursday, May 7, polling stations will be open from 7am to 10pm. There are 11 polling stations in Haverhill, including two each at the Arts Centre, in Sainsbury's car park, and at the Haverhill Rugby Club. The other venues are the Chalkstone Community Centre, the Leiston Centre, New Cangle Primary School, East Town Park, and the Methodist Church Rooms in Camps Road.

You should have received information about which polling station to attend on your polling card. If you have not, contact the borough council elections team by emailing elections@westsuffolk.gov.uk or telephoning 01638 719366 or 01284 757131.

If you forget your polling card on the day of the election, you can still vote. Fiona Osman, deputy acting returning officer, said: "Don't worry if you have forgotten your polling card. Simply confirm your details to our poll clerks and as long as you are registered, you will still be able to vote."

If you would like more information about the elections in your ward, you can visit haverhillelection.co.uk. This site, set up by Haverhill resident Aaron Luccarini, lists all the candidates standing in Haverhill's wards, and provides links to leaflets, videos, websites and contact details for them.

UKIP

UKIP's policies for the forthcoming election:

- To encourage the development of existing brownfield sites for affordable housing and to continue the fight against overdevelopment on our existing housing estates.
- Ensure large-scale development in Haverhill is not started without associated infrastructure including medical, leisure and community enhancements.
- To campaign for an early implementation of the North West Relief Road prior to any development.
- Stop third party self-interests trying to introduce a tertiary road for the North East development into Coupsals Road thus destroying plans to extend East Town Park into a country park.
- Campaign for effective public transport services especially to West Suffolk Hospital, cohesive transport links to the Cambridge/M11 corridor and support the restoration of a railway between Haverhill and Cambridge.
- Promote education, learning and youth provision through the use of existing facilities such as council-owned community centres.

- Have regular SEBC southern area development control meetings in Haverhill to deal with local planning matters.
- To showcase Haverhill's opportunities to the wider business community and highlight that the town is open and welcoming to new industry and commerce.
- To campaign vigorously to protect the remaining heritage of Haverhill.

LIBERAL DEMOCRATS

Liberal Democrat top priorities for Haverhill and St Edmundsbury are:

- Giving more responsibilities to places like Haverhill town and other parishes when they want to take on more power from both borough and county.
- Make sure that there is adequate infrastructure before developers start to build new homes.
- Make sure that plans for new housing meet the needs of local people.
- Work with all groups and organisations to campaign for the reintroduction of rail services from Haverhill by 2025.
- That greater emphasis is made to plug Haverhill into the Cambridge region's high-tech industry and to develop a higher wage economy for the town.
- Protect services such as community groups, libraries and the vulnerable from unnecessary cuts.
- That sustainability is built into economic development and that partnerships are developed to capitalise on green energy and to work with the towns, parishes, community groups and local businesses of St Edmundsbury to encourage this.

- Sustainability built into every policy on tourism; the countryside surrounding Haverhill needs to capitalise on its great natural beauty and become a centre of eco-tourism.
- That engagement with the average person is open, transparent and meaningful on key issues affecting our borough.

Paws for tea?

I AM writing to invite your animal-loving readers to host a Paws for Tea tea party on Friday 15th May in aid of the wonderful work of Blue Cross pet charity. Blue Cross's Paws for Tea fundraising event combines the nation's greatest loves – tea, cake and pets.

To take part, all you have to do is hold a tea party with friends, family or colleagues and ask them to make a donation in return for some tasty treats.

As an owner of many much loved pets, I know first-hand how rewarding they are and how much joy they bring to our lives.

But sadly, not all pets are fortunate enough to have loving homes. Blue Cross works tirelessly to help over 40,000 sick, injured and homeless pets every year that would otherwise have nowhere else to go.

All funds raised will help Blue Cross care for the country's most needy pets, and every penny raised really does count.

So go on, put the kettle on and sign up now at www.bluecross.org.uk/teaparty or phone 0300 790 9903.

Women's group mural unveiled at leisure centre

A MURAL depicting the activities of a weekly women's group has been unveiled at Haverhill Leisure Centre.

The painting, in the centre's Kid City Cafe, was designed by members of the Wednesday for Women group with help from their children. It depicts exercise classes, healthy eating, coffee, a crèche, toy library and supportive friendship.

Members of the group, which was set up 19 years ago by health visitor Anne Boyd, hope the mural will encourage more mums to join them.

Jan Dearman, joint coordinator of Wednesday for Women, said: "We are very grateful to the leisure centre for not only allowing us space for our mural but also for their continued support of our group including providing a fitness instructor for our weekly meetings and a venue to hold our fundraising events."

James Purkiss, centre manager, said: "We are delighted to continue our support of Wednesday for Women. The mural enhances the coffee shop and I hope that people will stop by to take a look and then join the group."

Call Jan on 07545 770596 to join.

School's award for eco project

A SCHOOL has received an award celebrating its green credentials.

Castle Manor Academy in Haverhill's Eastern Avenue received the Suffolk's Greenest County Award on April 15 for the restoration of their community orchard.

the way the orchard has engaged families, primary school children and Sandcastles play group.

The project has been supported by the Royal Horticultural Society.

The teacher who organised the orchard restoration, Becky Baldwin, said when she received the award: "Our project has been successful because we've worked together to offer something unique to our students, staff and families."

Warning issued over two scams

HANNAH MIRSKY

Haverhill residents are being warned to be on the alert over two scams targeting people in Suffolk.

Suffolk Trading Standards published two warnings last Thursday and Friday on their blog about scams affecting residents across the county.

One of the warnings is about a scam letter which tells recipients they have won the People's Postcode Lottery. The other is about an email which asks people for the details of their PayPal account.

Haverhill residents have shared their experiences with the scam emails on social media. One said she received an email purporting to be from PayPal on Monday, but checked to see if it was real.

Suffolk Trading Standards state that the spoof emails have the subject line "Log in to PayPal to resolve a limitation on your account", and are addressed to the recipient's email address rather than their name.

The emails contain a link to a fake website, where scammers can collect and steal personal and financial information.

The trading standards authority advises anyone who receives the fake email not to click on the link, and to forward it to spoof@paypal.com.

The other scam they are warning about is a letter sent in the post which tells people who receive it that they have won £825,000 in the People's Postcode Lottery.

Trading Standards have received a copy of the letter which was sent to a Suffolk resident.

It encourages the addressee to part with personal details and money upfront as a "processing fee".

If you are unsure whether a letter is genuinely from the People's Postcode Lottery, you can call their Customer Services team on 08081 098 765.

Steve Greenfield, head of Suffolk Trading Standards said: "We would advise residents to be vigilant if they receive any unexpected correspondence claiming they are entitled to a lottery win, or asking for personal details or bank details. Lottery scams and those asking for people to input their personal or bank details are common. If anyone is unsure whether what they have received is a scam they can get in touch with Trading Standards by calling 03454 040506."

If you have been a victim of either scam, you can report it to Action Fraud by calling 0300 123 2040.

247 postal ballot papers hand delivered after error

The borough council have hand-delivered replacement postal ballot papers in Clare after an error.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council has apologised for an error in 247 postal ballot papers which were delivered in the ward over the weekend.

A printing mistake meant that the ballot papers incorrectly stated that the borough council election in the ward was uncontested.

The borough election in Clare ward is in fact contested. Only the parish election is uncontested.

The council hand-delivered correct replacement ballot papers on Monday evening.

Parliamentary postal ballot papers had already been correctly delivered.

For any information or if you have not received your postal ballot papers, please contact the Elections Team on 01638 719366 or 01284 757131 or email elections@westsuffolk.gov.uk.

ASK ABOUT FOR NEW TRIPLE GLAZED WINDOWS

Labour aims to win – engagingly

HAVERHILL voters have the opportunity to elect Councillors for the Town Council, the Borough Council and one County Councillor, in addition to electing our West Suffolk MP on Thursday, May 7, writes the Haverhill and Kedington Labour Party.

A total of 16 seats on the Town Council, 10 seats on the Borough Council and one vacant seat on the County Council are up for election.

With considerable interest in local politics now being generated, the opportunity to influence our local administrations is certain to provide an interesting election day. The local Labour party has held seats on all three tiers of council over the past five years and has worked very hard to support our town at every opportunity.

Outgoing Mayor, Cllr Roger André, is positive about the opportunity voters now have to engage in political discourse. He says: "We have seen a massive increase in engagement with local politics over the last five years. Our regular efforts to make ourselves available have shown an increasing desire for people to discuss our town's future and support the work that our Councillors do to support them."

A MASSIVE INCREASE IN ENGAGEMENT: Cllr Roger André, Cllr Pat Hanlon and Cllr Gary Stroud

Cllr André is standing in Haverhill East for Town and Borough elections on May 7. "We need to encourage voters to look at the track record of their local parties and see the huge effort your Labour Councillors have already put in to improving Haverhill," he says. "Whether it be campaigning to reverse budget cuts, supporting local residents in receiving the help they need from local council or flying the flag for our great town, the Labour Group has always fought hard to ensure our town is a well serviced, thriving community."

Your local Labour Party has candidates for all the elections. Haverhill and Kedington Labour Party has promised:

- To work towards ensuring there are adequate GPs and an improved out-of-hours service for NHS patients

- To expose the abuse of zero hours contracts and promote the living wage

- To seek no more delay to the masterplan for Haverhill town centre

- To work locally with schools to ensure there is adequate planning for the future

- To ask for more social housing and better facilities for

CLLR MAUREEN BYRNE: The Labour Party is committed to working for all the residents in the catchment area

the disabled

- To continue to support the development of the Youth Hub and a holistic approach to young people and their needs

- To tackle child poverty through a focus on employment, education and housing.

Your local Labour Party is committed to working for all our residents. Your vote for Labour candidates in Town Council, Borough Council, County Council and for the West Suffolk Member of Parliament can deliver a better deal for all.

Vote for your community – vote Labour.

New police installation saves lives

A DEFIBRILLATOR has been installed at Haverhill police station.

It is one of seven of the potentially life-saving devices handed over to Suffolk Police by the East of England Ambulance Service.

The portable device automatically diagnoses heart arrhythmias and treats them using defibrillation, allowing the heart to re-establish an effective rhythm.

Each machine has instructions but they are designed to be easy to use, with simple audio and visual commands to give guidance in the event of an emergency.

The other machines have been installed at police stations in Ipswich, Stowmarket, Sudbury, Hadleigh and Newmarket.

Jon Needle, community partnerships manager with the East of England Ambulance Service, said: "A defibrillator can make a crucial difference in the first two or three minutes before an ambulance crew or community first responder reaches a patient who isn't breathing and whose heart has stopped. This project will undoubtedly save lives over the coming months and years."

The defibrillator will be available for public use.

Friends in training for memorable walk

HIKING: Friends Nichola O'Neill and Claire Walker are walking 100km from London to Brighton

TWO women are preparing for a non-stop 100km fundraising walk to raise money for a cancer charity.

Nichola O'Neill, 42, of Blackmore Close, Haverhill, and Claire Walker, 44, of Churchill Avenue, will walk 100km – 62 miles – from London to Brighton on May 23.

The pair are fundraising for Macmillan Cancer Support as both of them know people who have been affected by cancer, including Claire's mother Dawn Burton.

Claire, a mother of three and sixth form admissions officer, said of the charity: "They've done so much for so many people."

The two friends decided to take on the walk, which is more than two marathons back-to-back, after participating in the MoonWalk, a night-time marathon walk to raise money for breast cancer charities.

Claire said: "You obviously have to increase the challenge, so we said

HANNAH MIRSKY

"Let's just swap the numbers round and do 62 miles instead of 26."

Before taking part in the MoonWalk, neither of the women were experienced walkers.

"We keep being told we're mad," said Nichola, who is a counsellor and has two children. "And I don't think I can disagree."

They estimate that the walk will take them about 24 hours, and while there will be rest stops, they will not have a chance to sleep until they finish the walk.

They have been training since November, walking in the early morning and weekends, and have done practice walks as long as 30 miles.

The event has been organised by Ultra Challenge.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Business window smashed

A HAVERHILL business had its window smashed by vandals overnight between Thursday, April 23 and Friday, April 24.

A brick was thrown through the window of Gea Refrigeration in Hollands Road, smashing both panes of glass.

The vandalism caused £200 of damage, but nothing was taken from the inside of the premises.

Children invited to take a dip

SUFFOLK's 10 and 11-year-olds are being invited to take part in an outdoor swim.

The 250m open water swim is part of the Great East Swim Challenge, which takes place at the Alton reservoir on Saturday, June 20. To be eligible, Year Six pupils from Suffolk simply have to hold the Personal Safety Award (or an equivalent award) and be able to swim at least 250 metres confidently.

There is no fee, and it is a condition of entry that wetsuits are worn. Training sessions will be offered.

For more information or to nominate someone, email schoolswimming@suffolknorse.co.uk by Friday, May 8. Nominations should include the child's name, and parent's name, address, email and telephone contact details and their school's name.

Appeal to stop free running

HAVERHILL police are asking young people in the town not to participate in "free running", a sport involving running across the roofs of buildings.

A police spokesperson said: "We are experiencing issues with young people charging around on roofs on the High Street. We are asking that they stop. They are causing damage and we are extremely concerned about the safety of individuals."

AWARDS: Back: Carrie Betts, Sam Blick, Rio Absalom and Liz Nunn of Dizzy's Day Nursery and Aron Woodward of Hannington's Jewellers. Front: Sophie Allen and Elaine Carr of thebestof Haverhill.

Businesses receive awards at event

TWO Haverhill businesses received awards for being the most loved jeweller and nursery in the country on Friday.

Representatives from Hannington's Jewellers in Haverhill's High Street and Dizzy's Day Nursery in the town's Hollands Road received the awards at thebestof National Celebration Ball.

The ball, which took place at the Marriott Forest of Arden Hotel in the Midlands, was attended by 300 guests.

Aron Woodward accepted the Most Loved Jeweller 2015 award for Hannington's. He said: "I thoroughly enjoyed representing Hanningtons at the ball as this is the first time we have taken part in any type of awards."

Dizzy's Day Nursery retained the Most Loved Nursery Award for the second year running. Owner of the nursery Liz Nunn said: "It was a fitting celebration to recognise our achievement in gaining over 1000 reviews since joining thebestof Haverhill two and a half years ago."

Police link 80 burglaries

POLICE are launching a campaign after detectives linked 80 burglaries, including two in Clare and one in Wickhambrook.

Typical features of these break-ins, which took place across Suffolk and South Norfolk from November last year to April this year, are that they occur in rural areas, usually in the afternoon or early evening. They also involve forced entry to the property and jewellery is the main target for the criminals.

They have been linked because of similarities in the nature of the break-ins and forensic evidence from crime scenes.

The burglary in Wickhambrook took place on December 19 last year, and the two in Clare took place in February this year, one on Wednesday 25 and one between Monday 23 and Friday 27.

Although police are following a number of leads, they are appealing to local communities to be on the look-out for suspicious behaviour and to notice people and vehicles who appear out of place.

Detective Inspector Nick Power, of Bury St Edmunds CID said: "This is an alarming amount of burglaries, causing misery and distress to a vast number of individuals and families across Suffolk and also into Norfolk."

"My direct appeal to local communities is to not just ignore something you see or hear that seems out of place. This could include a suspicious vehicle outside your neighbour's house or hearing the sound of glass smashing nearby.

"Note down the car registration number or description of any suspicious persons you may have seen and report it to us if you believe it to be unusual. These criminals may present themselves as genuine callers, so if their behaviour seems odd then let us know."

To get in touch with Suffolk Police, call 101.

the GUIDE

Mary Black

Mary Black, Cambridge Corn Exchange, Tuesday, May 5 at 7.30pm. Tickets £32 from (01223) 357851 / cornex.co.uk.

PACK tissues, take photos – this will be your last chance to see traditional Irish singer Mary Black in action outside of her home country.

The Dublin born songstress has dubbed it her Last Call Tour, stopping at Cambridge Corn Exchange, after announcing on her website she's done with trekking round the globe.

She said: "Music has been so good to me, I've loved touring the world for the last 30 years... I have made so many friends and have countless fond memories from different corners of the globe. So to my fans everywhere I'd like to thank you. Le gach dea-ghuí (with every good wish/prayer)"

Best known for putting fresh new spins on Irish classics and finding new ways to interpret traditional material, the 59-year-old's career has spanned 25 years, 11 platinum selling records and has seen her compared to the likes of Enya and Sinéad O'Connor. That's all while sharing true Irish music, from past and present, with a wider audience.

Want to know more? You can read all about Mary's life and work in her 2014 autobiography, "Down The Crooked Road".

She'll be supported on the night by accordionist and fiddler Sharon Shannon from County Clare, formerly a member of The Waterboys. She also plays melodeon and tin whistle. You'll be jiggling about in no time.

'I'm going to be very funny this year'

THIS WAY:
Cue a night of laughter with Reginald D. Hunter

THAT deep southern American drawl, all warm and edged by laughter, Reginald D. Hunter really is quite enthralling. It makes a change – comedians can be so intimidating.

Of course, you can't expect them to be hilarious all the time, it can be exhausting, but more often than not they're dry, cutting and far less funny on the phone than they are on stage.

Having seen Georgia-born Hunter spit out a chokingly funny set at Latitude Festival, I was anxious, but the man doesn't disappoint in real life.

Mesmerising to listen to, playful and candid, he directs his complete attention at you as if, right now, you are the only person he has time for, and he plans to make you laugh.

The youngest of nine children, it's a skill Hunter put to work earlier than he can even remember. "I was probably quite small [when I got a taste for entertaining]. I was class clown at the school that

Compelling, frank and wickedly smart, the American stand-up tells ELLA WALKER just how hilarious he thinks he's going to be

I went to and I was asked to spend the remainder of the period in the hallway on a number of occasions..."

He adds thoughtfully: "People seem to wanna fight less when they're laughing."

Moving to the UK permanently in 1997 to become an actor, Hunter famously abandoned a life of Shakespeare in his mid-twenties after being dared to try out at a comedy club. He nailed it, made a tempting £100 and has been racking up TV appearances and touring frantically ever since.

That's not to say his material hasn't caused skirmishes of its own. His tour posters have been banned on the London Underground and several of his gigs have been de-named by fretful, censorious venues, anxious about his use of the "n" word in show titles.

As a result, he's regularly dubbed "provocative" by the press, but doesn't see himself, or his material, that way. Considering his flair for stirring up controversy though, he hasn't yet found a line he's not willing to cross.

"To date I have not run across any subject matter that I think is off limits. The only subject matter that is off limits to me is a subject matter that I don't have something different to say about or I can make funny. I wish I had more austerity jokes; I just haven't been able to make them funny yet!"

His current show, "The Man Who Attempted To Do As Much As Such", is coming to Cambridge Corn Exchange and theme-wise he explains he's "partial to interweaving things," so expect thoughts on family, life, government, taxes and stories from his international travels. "It's an adventurous show," he says, not giving much away. "I'll be different than I've been before, I don't know which way but I mean, you keep evolving."

Now 46, does he think he's getting funnier with age or is he facing down the terrifying predicament of becoming a grumpy old man?

"Oh man, do you know what, that's an excellent question young lady," he laughs (told you he was a charmer). "I do think I'm going to be very funny this year cause for the last three or four years I've been feeling kinda in a bad mood and I'm not in a bad mood no more. I think I'm naturally kinda fun-loving."

■ Reginald D. Hunter: The Man Who Attempted To Do As Much As Such, Cambridge Corn Exchange, Saturday, May 2 at 8pm. Tickets £26.50 from (01223) 357851 / cornex.co.uk.

ROUND UP

Comedy:

ANYTHING prompted by an Orson Welles quote is bound to be intriguing. In this case video artist and performer Kim Noble took it and ran with it: "We're born alone, we live alone, we die alone. Only through our love and friendship can we create the illusion for the moment that we're not alone."

In "You Are Not Alone", the Perrier Award-winning and BAFTA-nominated comedian explores how we go about connecting with other humans, starting with his current job at B&Q. Comedian and columnist Shazia Mirza recently described her experience of the show in The Guardian: "As I walked to my seat, [Noble] was standing in the aisle naked, wrapped in gaffer tape, with some cheesy 80s music playing."

"It was a show about loneliness, depression, insanity, his longing to make a connection with people, his relationship with his elderly father, his sexual perversities and his job at B&Q that even B&Q don't know about."

Kim Noble: You Are Not Alone, Cambridge Junction, Thursday, May 7 at 7.30pm. Tickets £10 from (01223) 511511 / junction.co.uk.

Comedy:

MATT Forde is obsessed with politics. The comedian, writer, radio man and impressionist is well placed to poke fun too; he's a former political advisor for the Labour Party, having joined the party aged 15.

Great mates with Jon Richardson and Russell Howard, the 32-year-old was a regular on their BBC Radio 6 shows and still writes for Russell Howard's Good News, as well as 8 Out of 10 Cats and Stand Up for the Week.

His stand up show 24 Hour Political Party People is coming to Cambridge Junction.

Matt Forde: 24 Hour Political Party People, Cambridge Junction, Saturday, May 9, at 8pm. Tickets £11 from (01223) 511511 / junction.co.uk.

MUSIC

Skinny Lister, Cambridge Junction, Saturday, May 2 at 8pm. Tickets £10 from (01223) 511511 / junction.co.uk.

WHAT'S ON HOT TICKETS

Would you like to dance?

FANCY a dance? These guys will happily oblige you. Between them, Skinny Lister play guitar, melodeon, mandolin, concertina, drums and double bass (who doesn't love a double bass?), while the only woman in the group, Lorna Thomas, handles the vocals, whooshing around in floral vintage dresses as she does it.

The six-piece punk folksters play loud, giddy music aimed at making you lose your mind like you're at a very drunken, rowdy, happy-go-lucky ceilidh.

Having made a name for themselves with debut record, Forge & Flagon, in 2012, the group are bringing the enthusiasm they threw into their second record, Down on Deptford Broadway in 2014, to Cambridge Junction, after being signed to Xtra Mile Recordings (home of Frank Turner).

They are incredibly proud to be a bit different, having performed on narrow boats and in Land Rovers...

First launching in 2009, they are incredibly proud to be a bit different, having performed on narrow boats and in Land Rovers, and danced on many tables, in lifts and in car parks.

They are not at all averse to crowd surfing their way to the barman either. They bound infectiously through the crowd too, so don't be surprised if they leap out at you and start making you twirl and spin along with them.

NEW ARRIVAL: David Stanley, centre, with Petros Spyrou, left and Andy Jackson of Eurorider Training as Herald's motorcycles arrive in Girton
Picture: Richard Patterson

Herald range is now on sale at Haywards

NO sooner had they come in, than they were going out the door – that's what happened on Friday last week when Herald brought in the first batch of their motorbike range to go on sale at Haywards, the Girton dealership.

The Herald range hadn't come far – the firm is based in Huntingdon – but the delivery was a great occasion for Eurorider proprietor Andy Jackson, who snapped up two examples of the Classic 125cc bike for use in Eurorider's motorcycle training business.

"The Classic 125s are very cute little bikes," he told the News. "Very stylish and very retro which is the way things are going at the moment. The 125s are for our CBT training programme, we bought two as a trial for the new season and it's successful we'll buy some more."

Eurorider runs courses from Bourn Airfield and has been doing motorcycle training since 2001. The firm is expanding.

"Last April we took over BikeSense on Coldham's Lane, so we trade as BikeSense in Cambridge, they've been going for 15 years."

So what happened to Martin Wright, who ran BikeSense since it started trading in 2000?

"He's now based in Mepal. He does motocross training."

"In a good week we do 20 candidates," adds Andy. "The Herald's we collected from Haywards on Friday were in service on Sunday."

Find out more about Haywards at haywards.co.uk and about Eurorider at euro-rider.co.uk.

Rovers edged out by first-half strike

HAVERHILL Rovers' final home game of the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division season ended with a 1-0 defeat at home to Diss Town.

Rovers had the better of the early play as they tried to get the ball down, but Diss began to get more into the game and eventually created a number of chances that saw them hit the woodwork three times.

The visitors then took the lead with a well-taken goal from Ben Lewis, although there did seem to be a handball in the build-up.

Rovers played the better football in the second half, while at the other end Diss were rarely able to trouble goal as the game became a scrappy affair.

Rovers created the best chance of the half as Ty Alleyne did well to set up Charlie Sigler, who shot into the side netting, but the home side were unable to equalise.

After the game, skipper Sam Holmes was presented with the supporters' player-of-the-year award.

Rovers have announced former player

Gary Ward as manager of the club's reformed reserve team for next season.

Ward came through the club's youth teams to play for the reserves, only for injury to end his playing career.

He then moved into coaching, taking charge of West Wrattling in the Kershaw League and Cambridge Women.

The reserves will be made up of the current under-18s and are looking to join the Thurlow Nunn Reserve League.

"The club is keen to continue to provide opportunities for the development of local youth players as we see this as a must," said chairman Ali Shulver.
